Pramipexole (ProMir-0062) is a new compound showing potent and selective dopamine D2 and D3 receptor agonist activity. In an attempt to assess whether this compound could be of potential interest for the treatment of cognitive disorders, we examined its effect on memory processes in rats. In the acquisition trial of a two-way active avoidance task, acute administration of pramipexole (10, 20 and 50 mg/kg, i.p.) or fluoxetine (10 mg/kg) produced significant and dose-dependent impairment of learning. In the retention trial, no impairment was observed in vehicle-treated or fluoxetine-treated animals, whereas pramipexole (20 and 50 mg/kg) impaired avoidance memory. In the probe trial, pramipexole (20 and 50 mg/kg) and fluoxetine (10 mg/kg) impaired memory retention in an exploratory behaviour test. Moreover, in the water maze task, pramipexole (20 and 50 mg/kg) and fluoxetine (10 mg/kg) impaired learning and memory in the acquisition trial. In the probe trial, pramipexole (20 and 50 mg/kg) and fluoxetine (10 mg/kg) impaired retention memory. Pramipexole (10 and 20 mg/kg) did not show any cataleptogenic effect at the doses tested. These results show that pramipexole impairs memory processes in the acquisition and retention phases, and suggest a potential therapeutic use of pramipexole for cognitive disorders, such as Alzheimer's disease.Q: What is the counter in "Is there a counter in that sentence"? I have often seen sentences with counter when writing essays, like: Is there a counter in that sentence? Is there a counter in that sentence? What are the counters in this sentences? A: I think you are looking for the number word in a question. In a question, it can be negative (there is not a number in that sentence?) or positive (there are several numbers in that sentence?).
