Word to PDF Converter A: I will add that the way I convert PDF to XLSX is by using Free PDF Library A: I use PyPDF2. When you start you have to choose between convert to xlsx, xls, csv or text Here is an example (more can be found here)

import io
import os
from PyPDF2 import PdfFileWriter, PdfFileReader pdf = PdfFileReader(io.BytesIO(open('test.pdf', 'rb').read())) xlsxwriter = PdfFileWriter() xlsxwriter.addPage(pdf.getPage(1)) xlsxwriter.write('test.xlsx')

Of course you can also just choose convert to xls and then `xlsxwriter.write('test.xls')` Q: How to make a number bigger I'm not quite sure how to put this into words, but I'm trying to make a program that does the following: For example I enter 5 and it should show this: 1 -2 -2 -3 -4 -4 My problem is it doesn't like 5 in a loop. It always prints out 1 for example. I tried breaking it into two loops and it gives me a different error. For example: `while(number == 1): print("-")` `number = number * -1 print("1")` How do I fix this? A: While this code is nice for the basic premise of what you're asking for, the program is a bit over engineered. If you want the program to print the numbers in descending order (5->1->-2->-2->-3->-4) (as mentioned in your example), you can just use a for loop and print the numbers if they are negative. `i = 5 while i >= 0:` `print(i) i = i - 1` A: The issue with your while loop is that you need to start your loop at 0 to cover 5. It's also better to use elif statements rather than the double conditionals for all of them, like this:

`number = int`

The most effective way to keep your business up-to-date is to use Microsoft

Outlook. However, this excellent software requires plenty of resources, which is why a lot of small businesses turn to the cloud-based services. Here are the reasons why using the cloud-based services is a smart decision for your business: Huge email storage capacity If you use Outlook as a standalone application and you start working with an email inbox that contains several thousand messages, you will have no option but to delete the older ones to create some free space on your hard drive. This will not only cause a reduction in the storage capacity of the computer but it will also waste time. On the other hand, if you are an Outlook subscriber and you have a mailbox that contains more than 50,000 messages, you will be able to access those emails from any device connected to the internet and at any time of the day or night. Enhanced productivity Another benefit of the cloud-based services is the ability to handle numerous email inboxes at the same time. You will never have to wait for Outlook to create a virtual folder for incoming messages because it will be created automatically. Also, you will be able to access any email at any time of the day or night, as the cloud-based services are always online. With these services, you will be able to work faster and get a better overview of what is going on with your business. Flexible and easy access Most cloud-based services offer great customer service, so you can contact them whenever you need to. In addition, they provide great support, so you will never have to worry about compatibility issues when using them in your business. The ability to convert your collection of PowerPoint presentations to the PDF format is a huge benefit for you. However, this process is not always easy and in some cases can be frustrating. Fortunately, there is a software tool that will help you convert PowerPoint to PDF in a fast and easy manner. The name of this solution is Power PDF Converter. Here is more about this solution: What is it? Power PDF Converter is a straightforward program that allows you to easily convert PowerPoint presentations to PDF documents. The program will convert all PowerPoint presentations in a single click. How does it work? Once you have started using this tool, you will have to click on the "Convert to PDF" option. Once the conversion is complete, you can download your PDF documents and edit them as you like. How to use this tool? This software is very simple to use. You have to simply drag the PowerPoint files or folders on the interface and the program will automatically convert them to PDF files. Advantages and benefits

One of the main advantages of using this tool is that it works seamlessly. You will not have to go through many steps to convert your PowerPoint files. The entire process is simple and straightforward.

Another benefit of using Power PDF
