You can have your own license key instantly on a CD, DVD and a floppy disk, as well as online. Save your time, money and data up to 75% in time-consuming customizations of your software, by going to the trial version of the online license manager. All you have to do is provide your serial number. Choose a license key which is the one you usually use. How does this service work? Online license manager is a type of software service which can issue a license key instantly and automatically after payment. The license key can be downloaded instantly to your computer or portable device. What is this license key used for? License keys are used to authorize your software. You can use the key to activate your software on a specific computer, portable device or server. FAQs What is the difference between the two versions of the LicenceKey software? The trial version is the online license manager - it can issue a license key, download the key to your computer or portable device and activate your software on a specific computer or portable device. The registered version is an enhanced version of the online license manager. We have enhanced the software with a lot of useful features: Encryption - the package can encrypt and decrypt the license file and license key for a specific license. Password generator - the package can generate random passwords and generates a password based on user input. Preview - the package can preview the license, the license key and the license file. Activation logic check - the software can check the activation logic of your software - to make sure your license key is valid for the version you bought. What is the difference between the trial version and the registered version? The difference is in the license key files that are used to generate license keys. The trial version uses the.txt license key files. The registered version uses the.lic license key files, that are generated based on the serial number of your product key. How can I buy licenses for the registered version? You can buy the registered version of the license manager instantly on a CD, DVD and a floppy disk. The package contains the registration code. The registration code is included in an e-mail after your payment is complete. How much does it cost? The package contains the following: One stand-alone license manager. Three license key files. If you order

The application generates a Microsoft Word template (2003/2007 file format) containing the following elements: Business Object Reference Number Product Product Focus Area User Business Object Reference Number Project Name Business Object Name Department User Business Object Reference Number: The system automatically generates a Business Object Reference Number (BORN) for the project. BORNs are alphanumeric codes used to identify the different components in your project. They are usually assigned on each new project. In other words the BORN is a unique code for your project. Project Name: The Project Name field prompts the user to enter the Project Name. The Application allows the user to enter as much or as little information as needed. The Project Name must be entered before the user can proceed. Department: The user can enter a department name or select the default option "All Departments" from the drop-down list. The default option is populated with the departments from the active project. Business Object Name: The user can enter the BORN of the product. Product Focus Area: The user can choose to assign the Product Focus Area from the drop-down list or type in the area they want to focus on. User: The user can enter the user name of the system user who owns the workspace. The names are displayed if this field is populated. Customize MS Word Project Status Report Template Software: The system comes with a basic set of professionally developed templates and a variety of color schemes and font options. Each color scheme is designed to reflect a different mood, so you can make the report as successful or as negative as you wish. You can also choose from between ten font styles and four font colors. You can easily make and save your own templates for use in your projects.
