What's New In?

* PrintDirect utility is a low-overhead Win32 tray app that bypasses the Windows printer driver, using the DirectDraw API to use a computer printer without the need to install printer drivers on your machine. With this tool, you can print from any application by simply selecting Print from the standard Windows Print menu. To print from the program that you are currently using, you must set the application's print defaults. Then when you print, the program will ask you to select the printer. After you select the printer, it prints the file as if it was a native Win32 application. If the file is to be printed to a printer that supports more than one page, the pages are automatically aligned on the paper. If the file is to be printed in landscape, the paper is automatically rotated. If the file is to be printed in portrait, the printer will be manually rotated to landscape mode. You can print from the Internet and e-mail by selecting Print from the Internet menu or e-mail by selecting Print from the Send To menu. Monitor and Print supports asynchronous printing. Cash Register feature allows automatically opening the drawer before printing the receipt when the utility is used on a cash register. The monitor and Print utility, as well as the Cash Register feature, will always bypass the printer driver of the destination printer. Requires Microsoft DirectX 8.0 or later, version 3.0. When setting the destination printer, the computer will ask you to select the printer. The last printer selection is used in the absence of the automatic default choice. The monitor and Print utility, and the Cash Register feature, will only work with printers that support the named feature. Download: Download from \* Download from \* Download from This program will launch the default Windows PrintTo file, PrintToCD and/or PauseToDisc and the Microsoft Print To File Programs. (Note: the printer must have the default Windows printto application installed on it to use the printer.)
