methodology is gaining traction and adoption by more and more organizations. If you are interested in learning more about how to write a plan and manage an XP project this one-day master class will prepare you for a successful experience. Following this up-to-the-minute master class, participants will be prepared to take on the large implementation project or organization change initiative. Attendees will learn about coaching from an XP-minded project manager and how to use the popular Scrum methodology to achieve their objectives. Throughout the day you will have the opportunity to practice your new XP-based skills by designing and implementing a new feature in Wufoo. The XP master class participants will have a head start on the important use cases required by a new project or business initiative
